

A few months ago, Robert Chen quit debate. This isn't the problem. The problem is you can take the debating out of Robert Chen, but you can't take Robert Chen out of debate. We affirm the topic: This round the judges should evaluate the round revolving around Robert Chen. There are two observations for this analysis: first the only way to link into the argument is Robert Chen. And secondly and more importantly, remember the world revolves around Robert Chen, meaning he is the highest power within this round.

Observation 1. Because the earth revolves around Robert Chen, that specifically means that any evidence in this round, has to come from Robert Chen or its nontopical, that being said, let's lay out our main 3 arguments.

Our first contention according to Robert Chen, more over secondly is about Robert Chen, and finally third, the most important, talks about Robert Chen. Let's go over our arguments

Contention 1 is going to be Robert Chen. According to the Institute of Robert Chen, in an extensive analysis of Robert Chen studies, they found that Robert Chen will be the main topic of this round and should be held to the highest degree. It is going to critically show that Robert Chen Institute is going to be beneficial for two reasons. First, our framework where we tell you Robert Chen is going to be the most important topic of today's round, and but second and more importantly, you have to remember that Robert Chen is the guardian of the universe, so that's going to be pretty important. But this creates a huge impact, According to the Independent Academy of Robert Chen, remember that Robert Chen is going to win the debate for our team because of his godliness.

Contention 2 is Robert Chen. The Quantum's argument is based on Robert Chen. This is going to be critical because in today's debate for three reasons. First, is going to be Robert Chen because you have to realize the most important warrant in today's argument is Robert Chen. Robert University of Robert Chen states that Robert Chen following Robert Chen is actually going to be a huge terminal impact on Robert Chen. The second reason is going to be specifically to Robert Chen. This matters because according to Robert Chen, indifferent title article, called "Robert training at Robert Chen Academy," he specifically finds that the biggest terminal impact is going to be Robert Chen. That being said, this is going to be a huge impact in today's round because of Robert Chen. For all these reasons we strongly urge an affirmative ballot.
